Of all notable phrenologically challenged countenances, there exists yours with its generous external aural appurtenances.
Should you engage in rapidly fluctuating mandibular-dentitional contact with recreational botanical resinous residues, or, if mastication of sucrose adhered to a rectangular chicle substrate is what you oh so ill-advisedly choose, there is a seriously enhanced likelihood, that this archetypical behavior indubitably would, cause your conveyance intra-spatially, iin manner aeronautically, about your current abode iin Disneyesque pachydermian mode. ‡
